Within the pages of the 1967 Tomokan we have attempted to encompass the passage of one year's time. This particular year has been significant in the prevalence of a new spirit at Rollins—the Spirit of Change, which has as its purpose the proposed betterment of the college as a whole. Evidence of this change is manifested in the new curriculum, the expansion of school facilities and buildings, and the reorganization of many facets of college activities. As each day is characterized by change from dawn to dusk, each school year from registration to finals, and each student's college career from orientation to graduation, so too must an educational community be progressive and flexible enough to incorporate the demands of change.

In dedicating the yearbook to this Spirit of Change, we acknowledge its presence and express the hope that it will achieve fulfillment by transforming its abstract ideality into a concrete reality.

The hours flee as people occupy their time in various ways.

U.S.MAIL

Some days pass too quickly, while others drift languidly by.

Emotions play their part in the change, as they may fluctuate from day to day or remain constant through the year.

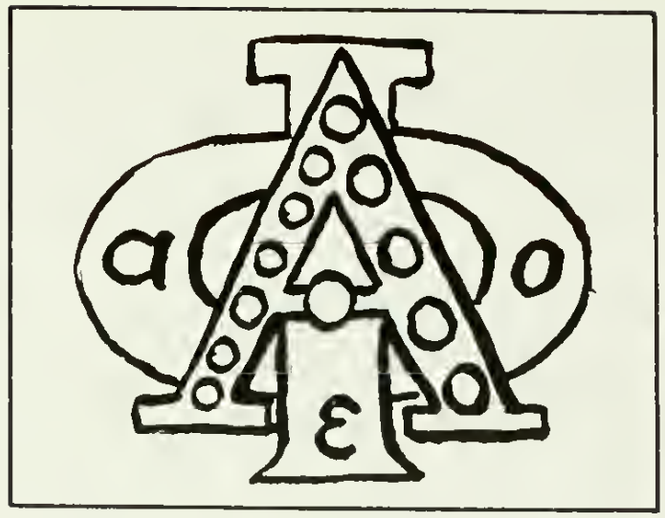
BETA LAMBDA CHAPTER

Candy Fallows, Pledge Trainer
Nancy Sharpless, Standards Chairman
Linda Felton, Scholarship Chairman
Nancy Biller, President
Barbara Moersch, Treasurer



The Alpha Phis moved into Pinehurst and the house started jumping—candlelights, serenades, and parties . . . The Scholarship trophy came in handy —would you believe spaghetti? . . . Jeannette discovered the fun way of teaching biology lab, huh, Gary? . . . Cutch livened up our party games, with the help of Roger Miller . . . Nancy's book of Billerisms would outsell Peyton Place . . . Viano won the Miss Jock title. The Sigma Nu sweatshirt and red track shoes did it . . . Ev deserved a gold star for her pursuit operations, but settled for a lavalier . . . Kelley preferred a red MG and a peg-leg Gene . . . Syl discovered three's a crowd at three in the morning . . . Valentines just sent Sharpless . . . Debbie dreamed of Jay's head on a platter . . . Barb tried to understand a certain four letter word—John . . . Duck had a helmet for every day of the week . . . Miss Felton got lots of grief about her organ—she also gots lots of flowers . . . Shelley ended up in the wrong place at the wrong time, right Boyd? . . . Gail celebrated birthdays in the strangest ways . . . Candy put her old Mustang out to pasture and bought a new one . . . Joanne started off a round of candlelights . . . Paula learned that "Ich weiss nicht" can be a painful expression . . . Vicki never did say what she learned in France . . . Everybody loved Donna's pet mouse . . . Yang fell in love with Van Cliburn—all ten feet of him . . . Judy was denied certain "privileges" because of her pranks . . . Joanna became a full-fledged member of the backstage crew . . . Linda switched pictures and ended up in the shower . . . Kathy sang in the choir, but said she didn't . . . Maria let her hair down . . . Gale put our house together . . . Linnie pleaded innocent—and was . . . Doudy and Bob continued in the Bobsey Twin tradition . . . Still, It was a very good year . . .

Nancy Biller, President

Sunning in The Courtyard still remains the Gamma Phi favorite sport, but other games were played by the prowler, substituting for Roger, by Mrs. Wynne wielding the kitchen key and by Olympic sized bubble bath floods. Reger-ous requirements on all players included Corvettes, cash and champagne. However, Navy's first draft choices were Barb and Martha. Sandy kept score on her "Dear Gail" letters. Scottie and the goat made great team mascots. Between innings Jean and Sandra rested at Harper's. Hall crawled out of the cellar as Bissell paddled after the surfing star. On the sidelines Ree ate bagels, Susan thrived on pop corn and Meave, Jody and Linda warmed the benches at the Royal Castle. Mary missed the game while looking for her comb and Linda was disqualified for lack of hangers. Princeton, Amherst and Rollins were still in the race for Jeni. Tina wrestled with "How Many Ribs Can a Rib Breaker Break?" Eagle spent her time at the gym while Cheryl played house. Senorita Askren practiced the mile run in the middle of the night. Lindley defeated Polly in the race for a Delta Chi pin, but Polly's found it's better to have a "trick arm" than a "Tricky Dick." Browning umpired our foul play as Ann specialized in indoor quiz games. Norma and her team-mate are at opposite ends of the field and Pokey played the waiting game until Spring Term. Linda traded the baseball diamond for a more engaging one. Hobbie and Cathy were always having a ball. Margie's batting average was even higher in Alexandria. Haddock played the hard-to-get game yet Joan never did get teed off at the Fairway. Carol played "catcher," as First Place for the Red Arc went to Kiki. Voran will be back in the game next year. At this stage of the game we will call time out until next year.

Sherry Askren, President

We are Pi Phi's all, there are some of us short, and some tall, some of us thin and some of us fat, A few of us broad and most of us flat . . . Let's leave it at that! As we waved goodbye to Kathy and Cornelius en route to Austria, Kris Brown entered the living room in negligee and rollers and turned Green at the sight of the "family" seeking Momma Morris and her keys. Grisham could have "dyed" when Baby Huey got a Chick. But what really topped the Bill was Warthan's engagement. TenEyck commuted to Jacksonville where she was pinned by the Marshall while Kelly worked miracles and got through to Wooten. Hogan come in from a friendly date thrown over Dick's shoulders. Lynne became head of the Fort, and Lynch, Rawls, and Taulbee led the Pledges. Giuliana, Lucia, and Karen were the Three Racketeers. Would you believe Brownie, love at first sight, and Busby a Stetson student? While shopping at the Fairyway, Leslie Brown bought some Frankenberries, Josie bought some Stu, Marion bought some Brew, and Gregory and Welch bought some Lambie pie. Meanwhile back at the house, Sharon and Ron were watching Jeopardy, when Hazardous Hoppy drove right into the living room and Bolted Colvin into the Stone wall. Preparing for a GOOD party at the Thompson's, we found Wells trying an electric Shaver, but found it wasn't too smooth. Hannah's thoughts were Draped from Illinois back to Rollins, as Conyers cheered the group on, and Linda Long tried to teach Traylor the Pi Phi songs . . . Carrison looked for her hee-hee holder, and Johnson and Payne called the Hogs. As the day come to an end, Skiff was organizing another GOOD party, and Sabra finally got married.

Despite losing a Watt Bulb and Draper the younger to the Daytona International Thrill Drivers recruiting team, the Club once again had a year that proved worthy of its fine traditions . . .

This year . . . Pinder saw the Green's bankstatement and decided to become one of the family . . . Heywood took speech lessons from Nippy . . . Speaking of bank accounts, Lotspiech was always checking to make sure he was "in the Black." . . . Charlie Draper became a member of the AA AAA for those who drink and drive . . . "Goody" Myers became the Club custodian when he wasn't attacking his dates . . . Phillips tried to pledge Kappa only to be turned down because he couldn't make their basketball team . . . Crowley had a double attack of "vegetablitis and Parkingson's disease" . . . Knutson amazed everybody with his endless display of surfing shirts . . . Corky finally mastered "Tom Dooley" on the guitar . . . King once again found depleting supply of freshmen girls . . . Bozo sacrificed Pete Taylor to the Pagan gods during "Brother"hood week . . . Lavan took up light housekeeping chores and became an authority on the "care and feeding of your pet monkey" . . . Watkins spent too much time with the Kappas and not enough with the Clubbers . . . Nippy became Ross Evans right hand man and put a supercharger in his "motomouth." Hermit stole some spectacles from his grandmother . . . Westervelt took lessons on "How not to wreck a Mercedes" . . . Kennedy picked up where D. J. left off . . . Stedman unfortunately came down with an advanced case of "Blue Tail Fly" . . . Alva got engaged and we saw him once or twice . . . Bird got too aggressive and Seeligson was sent home to Mama . . . Hippo lost all his prestige with the "Townies" because his hairline receded another two inches . . . Wilson proved that being wise doesn't always pay off . . . Johnson "rested up" on pledge Sunday . . . Whale continued to consume horrendous amounts of beer . . . Hot Dog gave his pin to Rod Eason only to have it returned on the grounds of cruelty to suckers . . . George Draper continued to wind tighter and tighter around Linda's finger . . . while Smidt vacationed with Susan and became a regular at the wrestling matches . . . and Mushok wore his Monkees fan club button to church. All in all, this year had to be one of the best years for 1967.

Beauty

Miss Tomokan

1967

The 1967 yearbook staff, in selecting a young woman to be Miss Tomokan, reviewed the criteria set forth in last year's book —"to the striving for optimistic ideals and the attainment of a worthwhile reality." We searched for "a person who, through resolution, perseverance, and initiative, has gained much from the past and looks boldly toward an uncertain future." We further required a girl who possessed physical attractiveness worthy of the designation "Beauty." Miss Barbara Warthan fulfills this ideal and this reality of the many-faceted young woman.

As droplets of water unite to make a continuous stream in a fountain, so do the minutes of our college days run together to form significant years in our lives.

P.S.

Looking back, it has been a valuable experience as well as much fun to put this yearbook together. Amidst the impossible deadlines, lack of pictures, and late nights in the office, there was still time for a smile. Now that you have the book, we hope some of the enjoyment we had in creating it will be transmitted to you.

It is hardly enough to thank those people who helped make this Tomokan possible, but they do deserve much credit —

Kate, for organizing the classes
Jane, for great tact and Public Relations in getting the Faculty-Administration pictures
Susan, for getting all those Activities organized
"Greg", for handling all the drudgery with no complaints
Jay, for always being there to take a picture (except when he forgot!)
Bruce, for the "aesthetic beauties" and for always helping to meet those last minute crises
Bob Lovvorn, the Taylor Representative who so diligently and good-naturedly put up with our problems
Bob, for being the hardest worker and most optimistic "right hand man" and for all those typists!

Sharon
